Chief of the OPK is Klimanov, his deputy is Yelanezev. The designing department is under Noktov, the Komplettierungsabteilung is under Katoshnikov, and the personnel department is under Brigadov.

6. In March 1949 the NTO/MZU was absorbed by the OPK. The former chief of the NTO/MZU, Lyubimov, went to Moscow at the end of 1948, he returned in January 1949 to wind up his affairs and turn over the job to Nartov. He finally left for Russia. After the NTO/MZU joined the OPK, Klimanov became the chief of the whole organization, while Nartov was merely chief of his own section.

7. [ ] the section of the OPK which constituted the former NTO/MZU was dissolved. Altogether 38 persons were dismissed, some of them personnel of the OPK. Prof. Kirst, German chief of the NTO/MZU was also dismissed despite his good connections with the Russians. Filatov formerly of NTO 1, and Suchobok formerly of NTO 3 left for Russia during the first week of April. The OPK now employs 138 persons, and will close in June or July. The last technical report of the OPK entitled "Vorschriften ueber den Betrieb von Braunkohlentagebauen" (regulations governing the operation of open pit lignite mining) has been translated and at present the OPK is cataloguing reports and making general preparations to leave. Three cases have been seen bearing the following address: Moscow, Uliya Rasina 20 Schachstroyproject Yermolenko.

8. [ ] Comments: This confirms the assumption that the Technical Bureau of the Coal Ministry Test, [ ] is identical with NTO 1.
